Tell me something Good

Suzette,
I really had fun in Band this year! You know, you didn't have to cry when you got 2nd chair, I would have let you sit on my lap. And don't forget Suzette we got you a Blue Metal to wear on your chest. If you would just move your eyebrows you would get a better sounding sax. Good luck at B.G.S.U. but you probably won't need it. You only go around once in life and you made mine a better place.
These years I will never forget.

DON'T FORGET ME!!!

Suzette
Good luck
in life now
for the rest of the do as you want.

Suzette To a very nice friend I now you'll miss me, but you don't have to cry, because I won't. We also won't miss excellent Sax playing, because it stinks. Hope you have fun at B.G.S.U. with all the guys + get bunned to a crisp, but at least we'll get rid of your stinky saxophone playing. Good luck Always, but you'll have to come + visit us at Jonsey office

Suzette,
 Well, where can I start. This year has been the best year in band to me.
 I don't know about you.
 Our squad was actually half-way decent, even though we weren't perfect. Stage-band was great. At least next-year I will not ever have to chair. Have a lot of fun in you for the year, and keep up that saxcollege next year, and best wishes!
 playing. Good luck, and visit us!
 come back "Pam Moller"

Suzette,
 We had the best group this year the only person is that Mr. Shudryon didn't like me sorry to the group. Good luck to Suzette

Suzette,
 To a great give who a band
 in every class.
 Good luck
 in what ever you do. Take care. Jim N.

Suzette,
 You little thing!! What a trip you had two in a banding, especially with that most famous cat cat me! and of course Sylvia, too!! Good luck always and keep in contact when we're at S. H. Have a great summer + college life!!
 Love + hugs!
 Susan

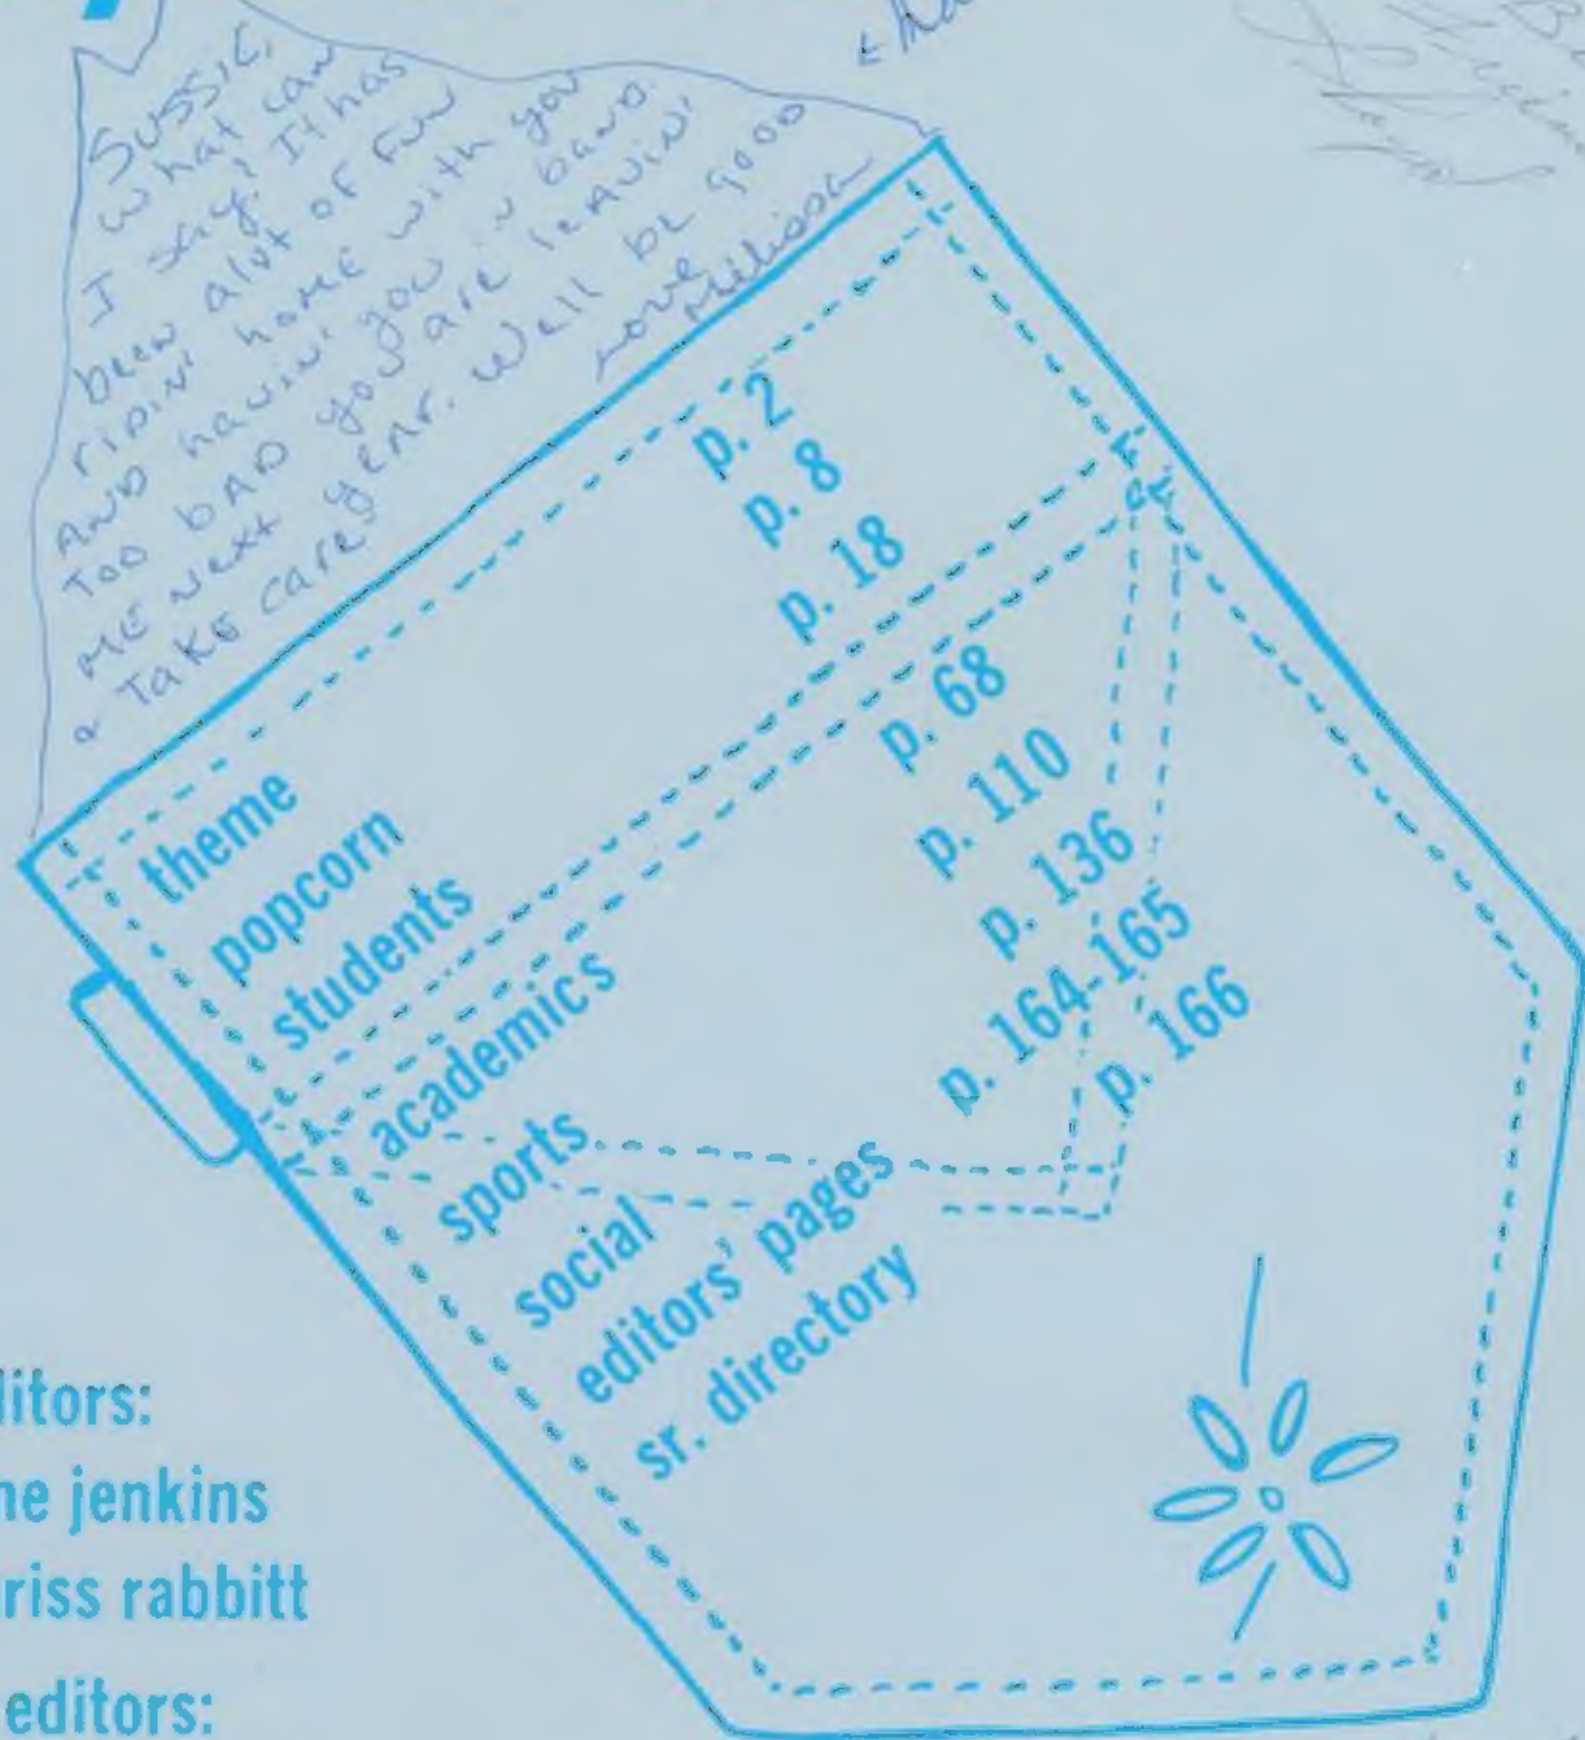

Suzette
 Well what can I say
 it's been fun in band
 Good Luck in all you do

Suzette, This year sure has been fun. I'm going to miss the people next year. I'm so glad I got to sit with you in lunch. I really got to know you and you are such a terrific person to know. I'm having a party June 15. I don't have the invitations yet but I'll get them. I hope you can come.

NEW CLASS WING

The many faceted vocational programs have taken another dimension with the addition of the new wing on the west side of the school. This new complex houses the Distributive Education classes, Occupational Work Experience, and the most recent vocational addition, the Auto Body Shop. A paint booth, large floor space, and all new equipment enable Mr. Eckman to provide the best training in Auto Body. With these facilities 10 or 12 cars are worked on per day. The new wing also has allowed for vast improvement in the O.W.E. program because adequate classroom space allows separation of classes, sound proof offices allow one to one relationship to students, and classroom aids supplement instruction. As the students of Clay grow, so do the facilities.

Auto body shop supplies plenty of space for the working team.

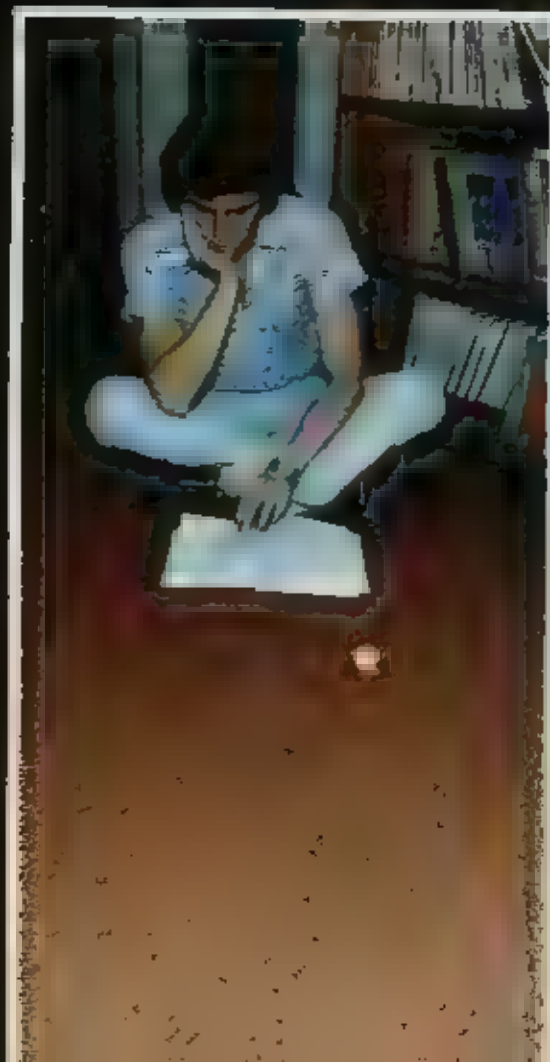

The new wing also provides an office for Mr. Eckman, auto body instructor.

Mike Howard paints a car inside the new paint booth.

Right: Carpeting absorbs classroom sounds in new wing.

NEW ADMINISTRATION

Note Mr. Wolfe's motto!

Mr. Wolfe shows his concern for communication.

Mr. Ted Federici, Athletic Director.

The '74-'75 school year has seen a wave of new administrators and a farewell to some established policies that we have grown accustomed to. Mr. John Wolfe, Principal, has brought a thorough culling of such things as student smoking. Cooperative efforts with Mr. Henry Spring, Dean of Students, has created tighter student conduct in school. Mr. Wolfe schedules periodic faculty meetings and is seen in classrooms and halls in order to keep in touch with the tempo of the school. The final addition, Mr. Ted Federici has been elevated to Athletic Director as a result of his past coaching performances.

Left: Mr. Spring and Mr. Fleitz frequently work together to solve a student's problem.

CLAY DISCOVERS EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Probably this interesting experience for these three students also enlarges the knowledge of other people here at Clay. Martin Foresman enjoys most comparing the social and economic conditions of the U.S. with those of his home country Sweden. He explained that many social services, such as hospitalization and higher education, are provided by the government to all.

A major difference noted by Brigitte Leussen, our exchange student from Germany, is corn, a food not available in Germany. As for Americans, she feels they tend to remain confined to a circle of friends and limit insight into new friendships. Our last exchange student, Kazuaki Tamikawa, doesn't understand the American competition in clothing because in Japan students wear uniforms. Another interesting observation for Kazu is that in Japan one must be 18 to drive. For Clay, the discovery is people.

WEEKEND NIGHT LIFE

In 1974-75, where do kids go to meet other kids? If a party isn't available, check out Mac's, Pizza Inn, Pizza Hut, and Oregon Lanes. In addition to other kids, things to be found at these "nite spots" are a burger and coke, pizza and beverage, a game of pool, and a friendly table. When are these establishments frequented? Every slow Saturday night in Oregon, Ohio.

When viewed on the national scene, the year 1974-75 has reflected in the news as one of international and national struggle and strife. Yet, commitments with other nations realize international peace and arms limitation, while at home we have become a people moving forward in equal rights and uniting to "win" the battle over inflation and recession. The '75 CRYSTAL chooses to "tell me somethin' good" in emphasizing the people who deal with the problems and are bringing to you all the "small" events of student life which compose the "good" in our lives.

N.H.S. / QUIZ BOWL

This year's members of The National Honor Society number 17. The students in N.H.S. were chosen by the Faculty Advisory Committee on the basis of their leadership, service, character, and scholarship as juniors. Ms. Ray is the faculty advisor.

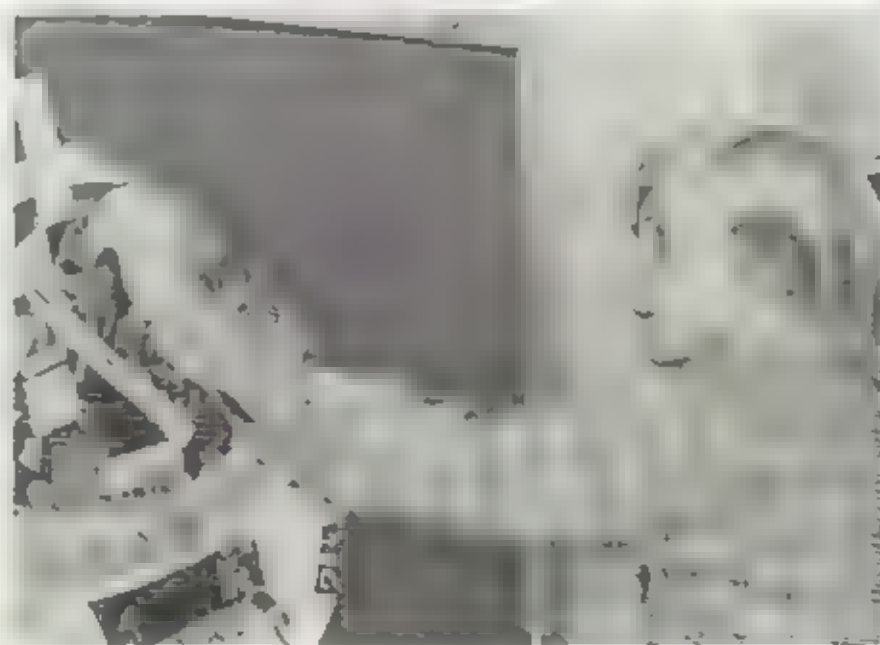

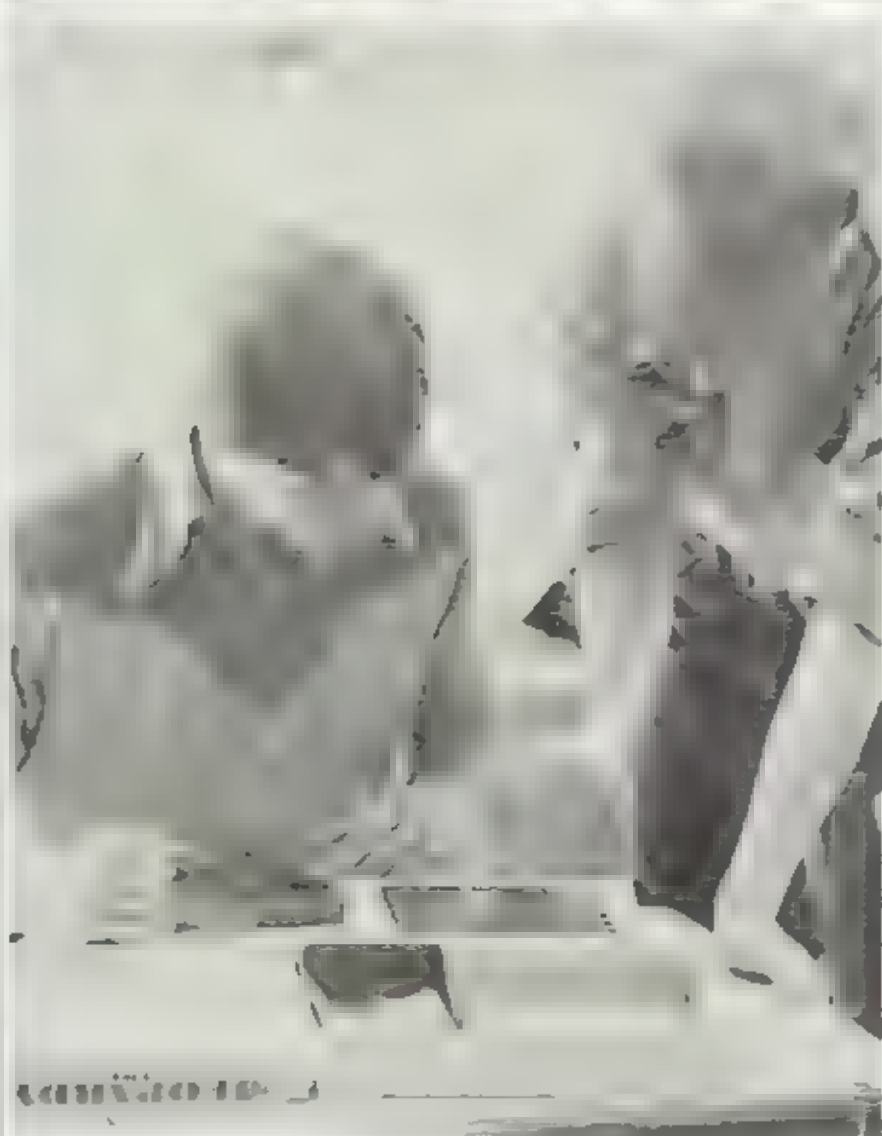

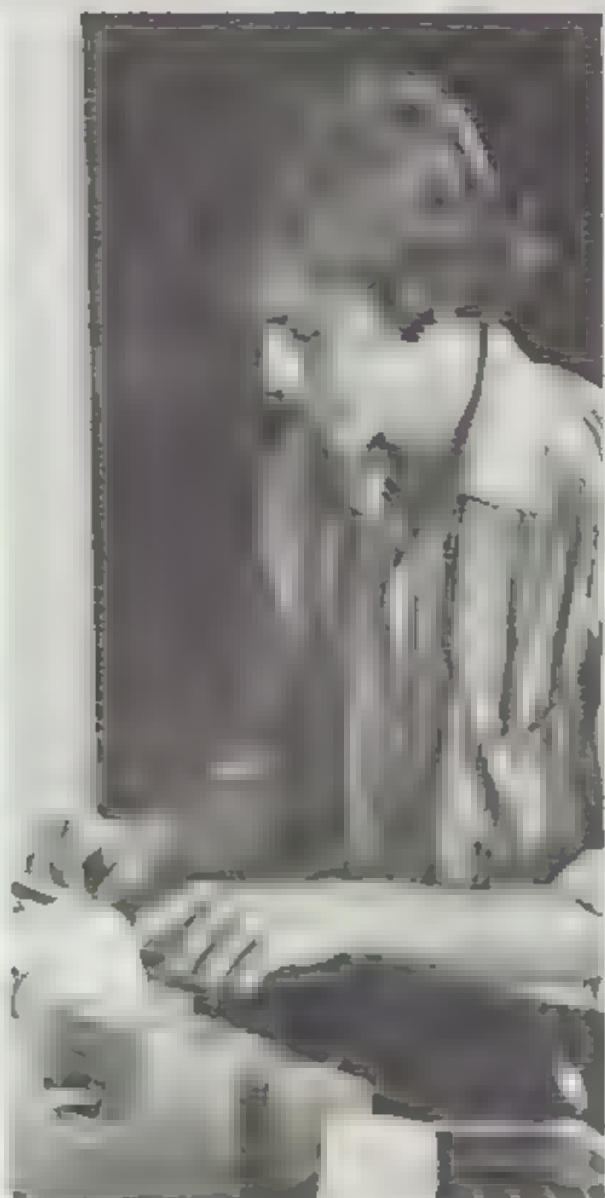

The Quiz Bowl team began their year with a 230-150 victory over St. Francis. This win advances Clay to matches with other winners. The members of the winning team are Joel Askey, Charles Carstensen, Doug Logan, and Richard Umfleet, with Dave Hufford as the alternate. The Quiz Bowl is coached by Mr. Routson.

The math department offers courses in advanced study in conjunction with basic requirements. The study of flat and dimensional surfaces is taught in Plane and Unified Geometry. In Business Math students learn basic mathematics skills, and in Algebra I & II the fundamentals of  $x$ ,  $y$ , and  $z$  are stressed. Students are able to understand and put to use knowledge of computer technology in Computer Math. Rounding out the curriculum are Advanced Algebra & Trigonometry and Foundations of Advanced Mathematics for the academically capable students.

SCIENCES

The Science curriculum offers both basic requirements and advanced study. Biology deals with the organization of life and Anatomy concerns the study of the body and its functions. Experiments in Chemistry teach chemical composition; whereas in Physics, experiments demonstrate the effects of energy on matter. In Physical Science, emphasis is placed on practical learning, rather than theoretical science.

Kim and Janet discover the mystery of slides.

Toy racers can be velocity testing equipment.

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Our Social Science department offers a multitude of courses. Seniors are required to take Civics, the study of governmental operation, and Economics, the understanding of monetary policies. Sociology and Contemporary Problems are elective courses offered to seniors. All juniors are scheduled for American History where they learn of our country's past. The sophomores are required to take Hygiene and Everyday Living, a course designed to prepare a student for leaving high school. Other courses offered include Geography and World History.

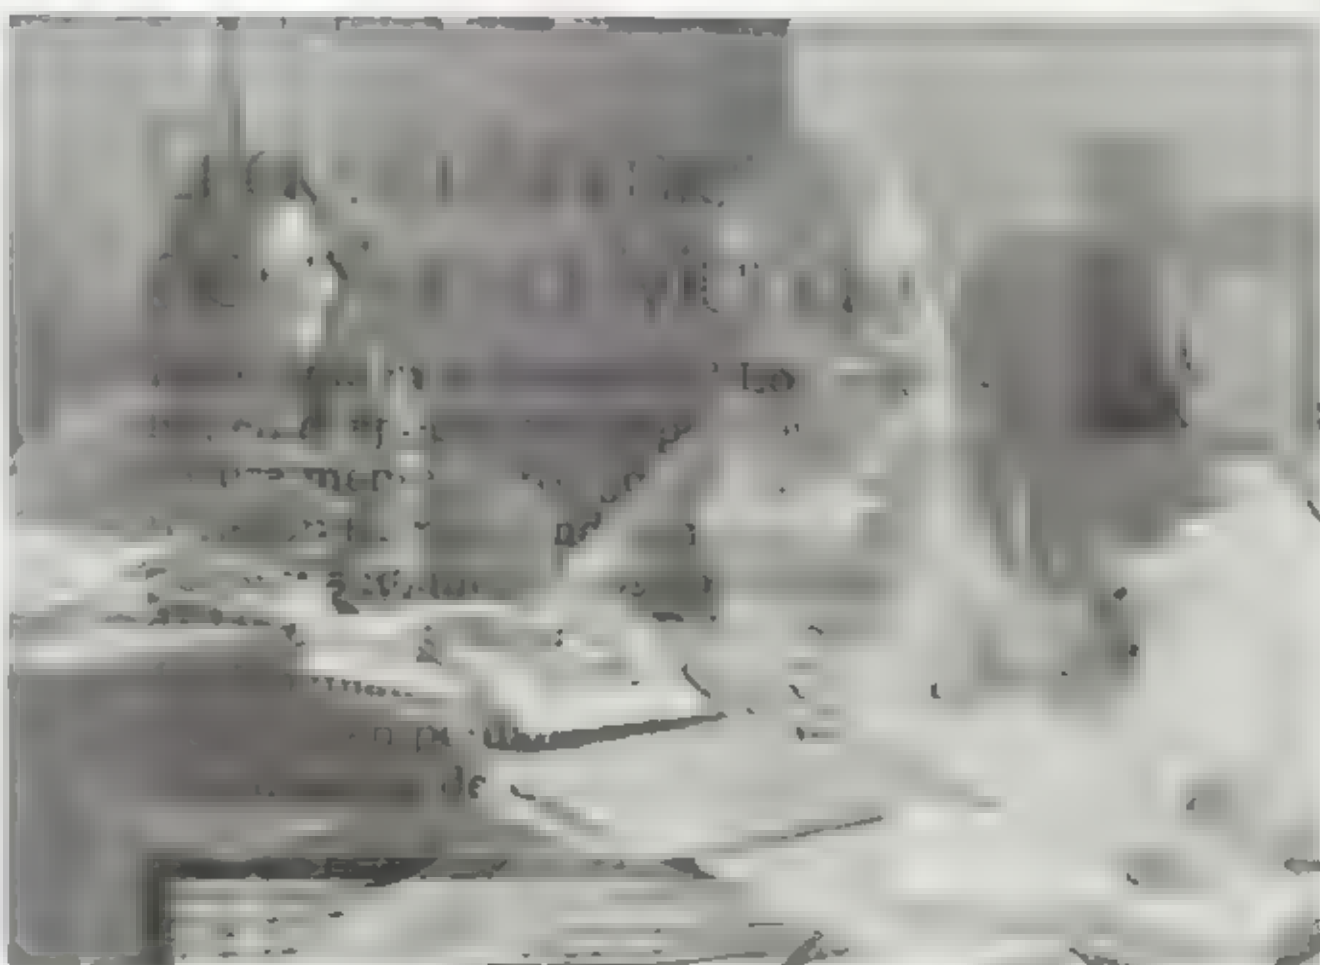

Social Science courses require note-taking skills.

LANGUAGES

Our Foreign Language Department consists of Spanish and French, although Latin has been eliminated due to lack of student interest. The students in these classes make use of the Foreign Language Lab, where they are able to individually listen to tapes and records. This enables students to learn correct pronunciation from native French and Spanish speakers. Both classes offer 4 years in each language. Third and fourth year classes perform skits and read native publications to work with the language itself. Language study includes familiarization with the culture and background of the language.

The recent revamping of our English Dept. enables students to choose a different course each quarter. Although there are requirements, a student may break the chains of traditional English by signing up for such classes as Philosophy in Literature, Cartoon Commentary, and Creative Writing. A multitude of new classes has been added to the program this year and more individualized counseling is being planned to insure that students select courses that will be of benefit to their future plans.

HOME EC.

The complexity of home economics today is revealed through the program of sewing, child development, menu planning, nutrition, consumer education, family living, and food preparation. The annual Play School and the appearance of guest speakers throughout the year lend additional diversity. Co-ordinated outside projects this year have included the Make-It-With-Wool contest and La-Salle's and Pandora's design contest.

Students participating in industrial arts became involved in the procedures of wood shop, metal shop, welding, drafting, and small engines. These students are found in class for five periods per day studying and applying procedures in the use of hand and power tools and industrial techniques. Mr. Kemerer and Mr. Habegger instruct and advise the students in classroom activities and with individual projects.

VOC. FOODS

Areas emphasized in the program include sanitation, nutrition, menu planning, and artistic food preparation. The most basic part of vocational foods, however, is food appreciation and kind, gracious service. # AUTO BODY / AUTO MECH.

Russ Lytle sands the surface for refinishing.

Auto Mechanics is the course for students who possess an interest in mechanical work and the automotive industry. Areas studied branch from basic manipulative skills in servicing a car to technical knowledge of an automobile, occupational information, safety judgements, and work attitudes and habits. Mechanic, service manager, shop foreman, parts manager, parts salesman, and insurance adjuster are some of the diversified occupations this course avails to the students.

Auto Body Repair is a new vocational class at Clay this year. The students meet five periods per day in the newly built addition. They work on vehicles that are in need of body and frame straightening, welding, refinishing, painting, glass replacement, and upholstery installation. Not only do these students study auto frame and auto body construction, but also practical or shop math and physical science, which includes the study of heat and metallurgy. These students meet both in the classroom and in the shop daily.

Terry Rogers replaces the alternator.

VOC. MACH./DRAFTING

Die designing, machinist, and tool and die maker are some occupations that a graduate of Clay's Vocational Machine Trades program may be apprenticed to. The student also becomes acquainted with hand and machine tools he will be using later on. Major Topics of study encompass math, blueprint reading, and shop practice on the large and small machines. The last nine weeks of the twelfth grade are spent in a work co-operative program with an area business.

Apprentice draftsman

This training for a skilled trades position combines the study of math, geometrics and three-dimensional drawing. Personal initiative and perception are a must for drafting students.

Juniors and seniors, both male and female, are instructed in actual appliance repair and related classroom studies, solely by Mr. Paul Hubaker. In the shop, students are instructed in the art of repairing household appliances such as toasters, irons, washing machines and refrigerators. The repairmen are shown procedures to test electrical controls, motors, and circuits, as well as gas and refrigerant flows. Various topics studied include customer relations, electrical theory of safety, and wiring schematics.

DENTAL ASST'S.

A thorough training program for a secretarial career is provided by Ms. Needles and Ms. Lenihan in Clay's Business Office Education (BOE) department. Upon graduation these students are ready for the working world, since the program instructs them in typing, shorthand, filing, business letter writing and procedures, and good grooming and hospitality. Should a student at Clay need a paper typed, the senior BOE class will type it for a nominal fee.

Sandy uses her shorthand ability to the "max"!

DISTRIBUTIVE ED.

Chuck punches in another practice sale.

Knowledge of management and marketing coupled with the ability to work with business machines and sales techniques enable graduates to enter the retail business world. These business fundamentals are provided by the Distributive Education program. A school-cooperated job and the DECA club, which sponsors regional and state competition in sales and speech technique, supplement the class.

Printing handbills and signs is a vital part of D.E.

SPEC. ED. / O.W.E.

Special Education helps to provide an education and direction for less able students. The instructors in this department not only help the students with classroom skills but also in counseling and guidance. The low student/teacher ratio is a policy that is hoped to be continued in the future.

Jigsaw puzzles provide a reward for completing assignments.

Mr. Fellhaber, vocational co-ordinator counsels a student.

Some students need more than the benefit of a full day's classroom lectures. These students need the training that can only be achieved by the OWE (Occupational Work Experience) program. Basic academic requirements are acquired by these students in three periods of classes per day, while the balance of their time is spent in a job where they obtain actual work experience.

BAND

One of the busiest organizations at Clay is the Clay High Band. Even in the summer the band is hard at work with squad training, which prepares incoming sophomores for marching season. Summer also includes performing at the Firemen's Convention and Oregon Day's Parade. In August Tom Ritter and Mike Kowaloc represented Clay in the All-Ore Boy's Band at the State Fair. Fall marching season paces the band's hectic schedule. Halftime shows were executed with spirit and precision. Tribute to the Beatles, Jazz of the Fifties, and "I've Got Rhythm" were some of the exciting new routines presented this year.

CHOIR

Students at Clay who are musically inclined are encouraged to join choir, which aids them in developing their natural ability. Instruction is received in learning how to read notes, unison in sound and correct mouth shape. The Christmas Season finds the choir officers Jeff Herbst, Jim Powers, Kim Ondrus, Sue Hill, and Barb Yeupell busily organizing the group to prepare them for concerts and performances at malls, and old folks homes. By selling candles the organization hopes to purchase new songs and risers.

EAGLE PRIDE

Determination, dedication, and unification, these three elements coupled with superbly talented athletes and competent coaching staffs make for truly victorious seasons. The endeavors of this years "Eagle" teams could very well go unsurpassed. This fall, the linksters sported a 20-4 record, the best ever attained by a Clay Golf team. Numbering among Wrestling victories this season are a first-place team showing at the Bowsher tournament and second-place at the Northwood Invitational Tourney. Our matmen are bested in league play only by Bedford. The '74 Eagle football team surged to a remarkable 9-0-1 season, sharing G.L.L. league honors and ranked among the best in Northwest Ohio. The best Varsity Basketball team to take the floor since the late fifties is the '75 Eagles. They captured the league championship and ranked high among the most outstanding state teams.

J.V.'S HAVE ONLY DETERMINATION AFTER SEASON

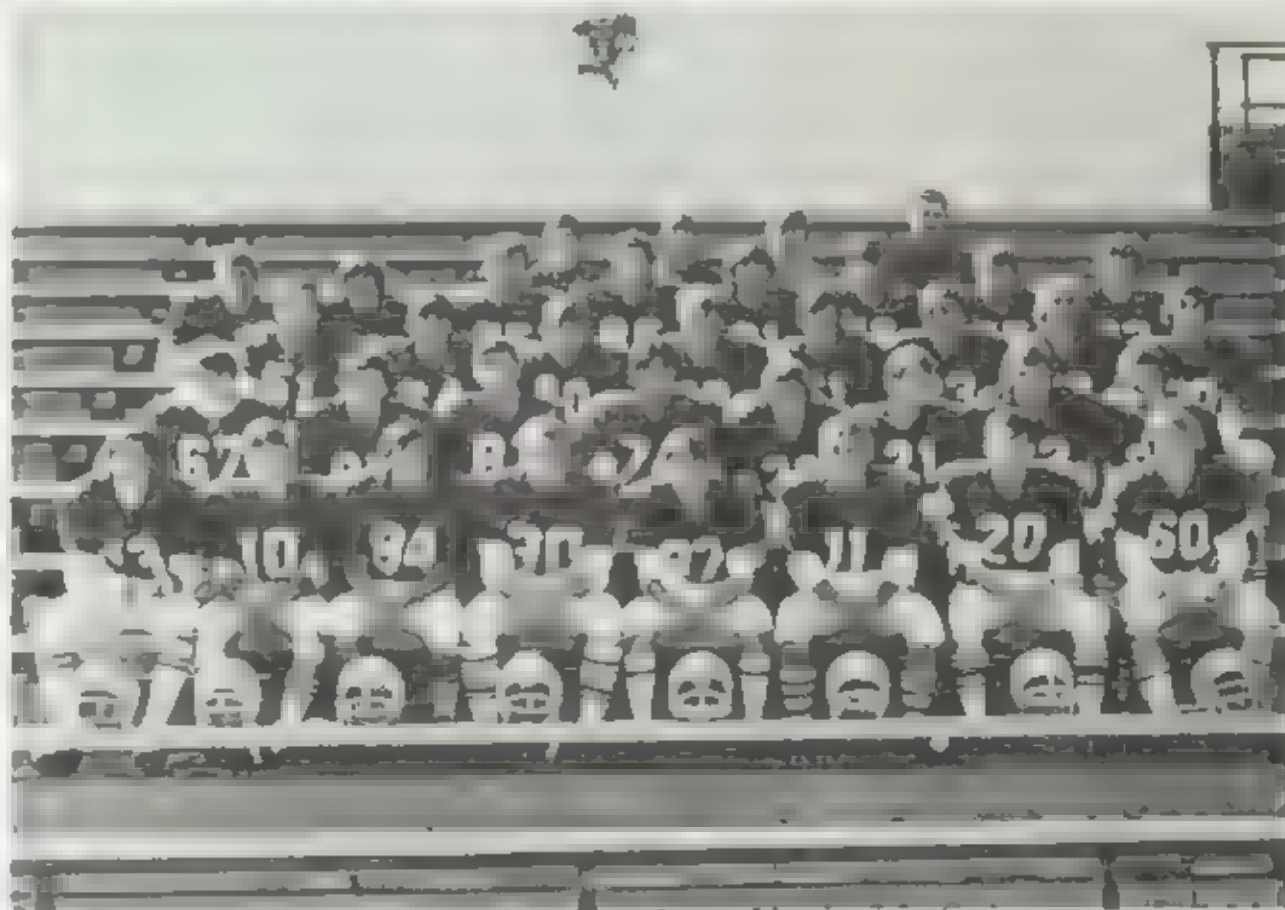

Clay's 1974 J.V. team finished with a disappointing 2-4-2 season. As the largest player was only 185 pounds, the J.V.'s deserve credit for close games against much larger teams. Any game could have turned around in the Eagle favor. Both ties demonstrated defensive determination as the meager scores were 0-0! These future Eagles seem to have the determination; all they need is lots and lots of milk shakes.

GRIDMEN BATTLE TO UNDEFEATED SEASON, TIE IN GLL

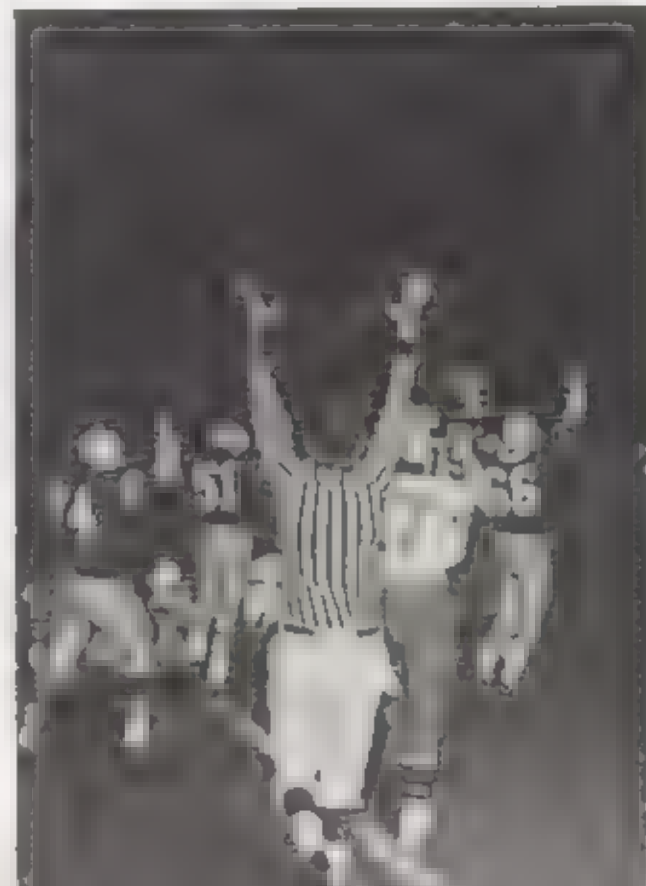

Clay gridmen boasted the best record since 1957 capturing the league co-championship with a 9-0-1 season standing. A tie with Bowling Green was the only blemish that marred their record. The Eagles, ranked third in northwest Ohio, fourth by THE BLADE, and fifth in our state region, had command of a superb passing attack which was firmly executed by senior quarterback Joe Romano. TOLEDO TIMES named the 6'2", 185 pound Romano as Great Lakes League player of the year, after setting a new passing record of 1056 yards. The gridiron defense caught the spirit too as they were able to annihilate opposing teams rushing yardage while opponents air game fell short. All-League seniors Joe Romano, Dave Laurell, Rick Wasserman, Dan Kohler, Brent Thomson, and junior Dean Diefenthaler roused the Eagles to victory after victory. The Eagle defense was the strength behind most of the wins. In 3 games they held their opponents to less than 100 total yards.

Returning only two lettermen this year, Clay's Cross Country team was weak and inexperienced. With a scant number of runners, the squad still managed to win four of their nine dual meets. Pete Buehler, Steve Schultz, and Mike Zak paced the team, twice finishing one-two-three. Receiving a varsity letter, Rose Balasz was one of the few girls in the area running cross country.

LINKSMEN TEE UP FOR RECORD SEASON

Coach Casey demonstrates the chip shot.

With the change of golf from a spring to a fall sport, Clay linksters have set a precedent for a hopeful future. Completing a highly successful year, Eagle golfers ended with a 20-4 record, the most wins compiled by a Clay team as well as the best win-loss record by Eagle golfers. Additional school records set were the lowest stroke total for a five man team and the lowest stroke total for a six man team. Such performance reveals the consistent, strong play of all team members. As individual golfers, Bill Hughes was frequently medalist at meets, and Mike Newell was high point man on the team. At the close of the season, Clay ranked third, their best effort in the G.L.L.

JV'S FOLLOW VARSITY TO GLL TITLE

The J.V. basketball team showed its best side this season with the G.L.L. championship. Coach Kandik brought down a few juniors playing varsity to help out in scoring and rebounding. With efforts from Mark Powell, Steve Harrington, and Jim Besgrove, the team racked up a 13-5 season. Other outstanding players were Dan Dippman, Dink Newell, and Toby Vonck. We commend the team's pride and talent.

EAGLES SOAR TO PERFECT SEASON

Swapping individual glory for entire team fame, the '74-'75 varsity basketball team tallied a flawless 18-0 regular season, the first in Clay High's history. Capturing league and city crowns by intimidating arch-rival Sylvania and De-Vilbiss respectively, the Eagle team garnered the #1 honors in the Blade prep poll and were seeded number one in Northwest Ohio. Under the superb coaching endeavors of head coach Bud Felhaber, assisted by Hal Kemerer, the rampant Eagles are ranked fifteenth in the entire state and are expected to fare extremely well in regional and district tournaments which have already gotten under way.

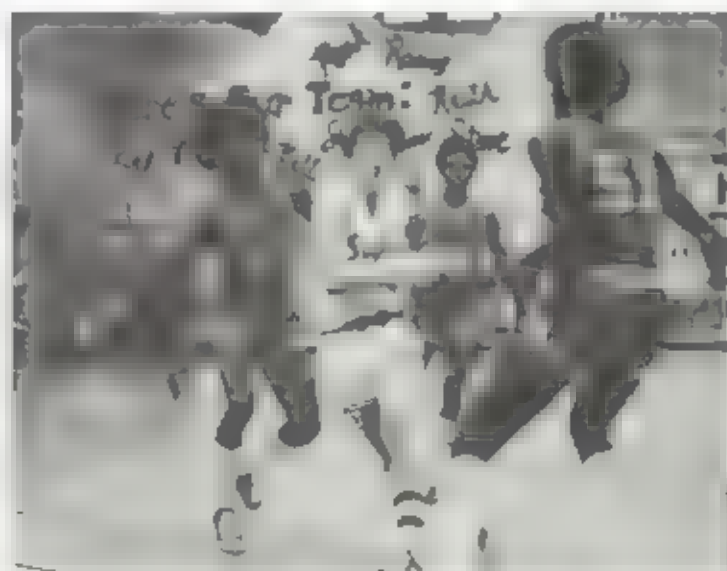

Working as an acutely tuned network, playmaker Marty Schroeder, leading scorer Randy St. John, defensive keyman Joe Romano, leading rebounder Rick Wasserman and Jerry Kettinger, who lent a few 20+ point performances, annihilated all league and city opponents. A key factor in these wins is that four of the five led the team in scoring in at least two games each while Romano supplied countless lob passes and assists for Eagle points. Rick Davis proved invaluable as the sixth man, particularly in the win over DeVillbiss.

ANOTHER GLL TITLE: JV WRESTLERS

J.V. Wrestlers have shown potential for future wrestling. Tom Gerard-112; Kyle Klewer-167; and Dave Winslow-155, really demonstrated promise with outstanding win-loss records. In hard fought matches the J.V.'s concluded standings, second over all. Peaking their efforts at the season's close, the J.V.'s won their G.L.L. tournament.

EAGLE MATMEN THWARTED IN BID FOR GLL

The Eagle wrestlers secured a tournament victory at the Bowsher Invitational, while they remain stymied by Michigan's Bedford GLL champs. As the number 2 GLL team, the grapplers added a second place trophy at the Northwood Invitational where Steve Turnow earned a first place medal. Individual GLL tournament honors were won by Steve Turnow who took Clay's only first, Greg Cousino, Felipe Martinez, and Jerry Stein who placed second, and Tim Frampton, Eric Horvath, Tim Fejes, and Jim Restemayer who ranked third. Bowsher Invitational recognized champions Greg Cousino, Jerry Stein, and Tim Fejes. Team efforts totaled a 4-3 season.

CHEERLEADERS: '75 RAH-RAH GIRLS

Most students think that a cheerleader has little to do besides cheering at a game. However, that the cheerleaders are kept busy with other activities. They not only decorate the halls, stadium, and gym, and paint signs, but (and perhaps the most difficult) decide new, interesting ways to build school spirit and promote student participation.

ICERS YIELD TO EXPERIENCE

Although their hopes to become a varsity sport this year were thwarted, the Hockey Club is alive and thriving at Clay. While still a young and inexperienced team in some respects on the ice, Clay hockey matches are action-packed with fast skating and flying sticks.

Two year captain for the Eagles, Ron Timbrook is the leading scorer for the Icers, running up on 8 consistent game scoring streak. Another problem confronting this young team is the fact that ice time must be paid by the team members, therefore allowing practice only once a week.

"Abdul" Newe misses sky-hook.

Girls can now participate in their own reserve and varsity basketball teams. Judging by the team's size many girls showed interest in participating in a varsity sport. As with other varsity sports, a school letter may be earned. Unfortunately, due to the late decision provided for girls' basketball, Clay's schedule is very limited. Tournament play will find Clay's cagers rebounding, passing, and scoring.

Outstanding varsity players included Joan Szabo, Doreen Robeson, Diane Burson, and Cindy Yohe. Terri Crosskill and Mary Powers led the J.V.'s in scoring and rebounding respectively. Experience and a complete schedule will enable this years sophomores and juniors to provide a better and more victorious team in the future.

HOMEcoming '74 & A WINNING SCORE

I feel that the world is not the same as it was when we were young and full of hope and idealism
 but now it is a world of despair
 and hopelessness
 and I feel that I am alone in this world and I am not sure if I can ever be happy again

her - I will.

Queen Cindy and escort Roger leave the field.

Dane and Tony dance to the Mark IV.

The success of Eagle football created the tempo for homecoming festivities as the team scalped the Port Clinton Redskins by a score of 28 to 7. Student Council, who sponsored the homecoming, greatly altered the traditional pregame ceremonies by having the girls ride on a float before the capacity-filled stadium. Tension mounted as the girls, escorted by senior football players, were announced as attendants. Highlighting the evening in a prelude to another Eagle victory, Laura Vonck relinquished her crown to Cindy Parton, Homecoming Queen '74.

Deb and Larry enjoy the surroundings of the evening.

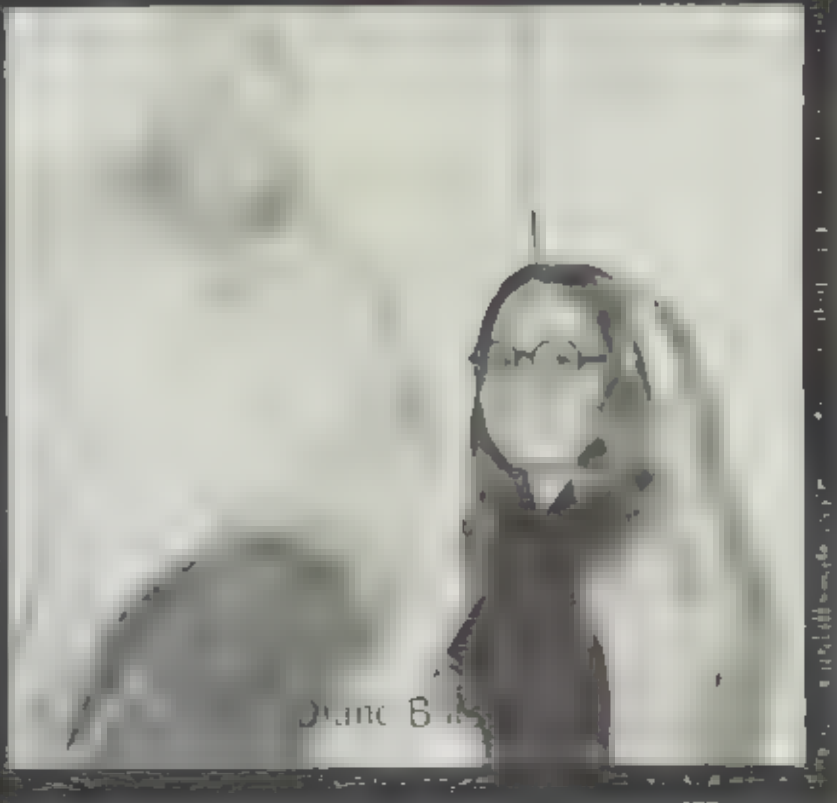

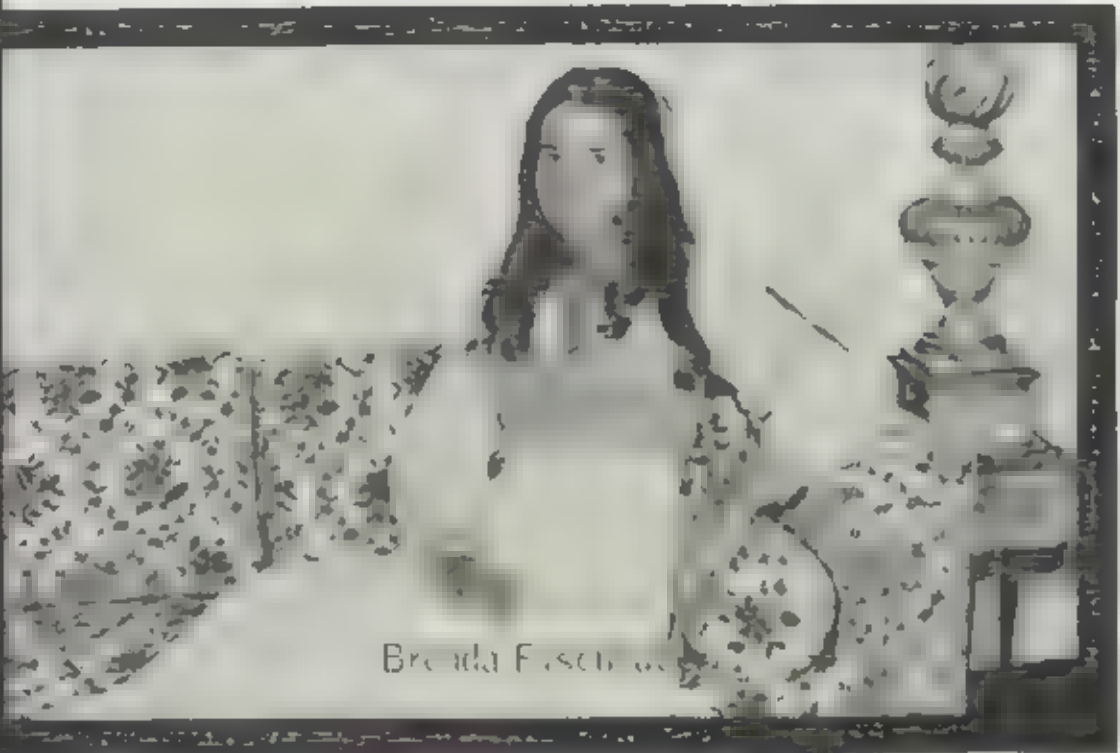

Girls wait anxiously for the final announcement

Student government is alive and well at Clay High School. This year they have sponsored the Snowball, Homecoming Coronation, and Spirit Sisters. The group has participated in a G.L.L. Student Exchange, the March of Dimes Walk-a-Thon, Oregon Blood Bank Program, and the Oregon Day Parade this summer. Additional activities include the Backward Sockhop, Fun Nite, a wrestling spirit week, and the Senior-Junior Prom. Our council is a member of the Toledo Area Student Councils, also which help them plan and co-ordinate the activities and services which they perform.

WRESTLERETTES/VARSITY "C"

Backing up Clay's wrestlers are the Clay High Wrestlerettes. The girls help promote spirit for the wrestlers by painting signs, attending wrestling matches, and also tallying scores at the matches. The girls also wear wrestlerette "T"-shirts on days of matches to show our guys they are behind them all the way.

Expressing their religious views to us at Clay is the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This year the F.C.A. had a host of speakers which included Bob Dodson, Bob Wortman, and Tom Beutler. Bill Leach was going to present a 3 day art display, met with an accident in Wisconsin, losing all his material. Many alumni members of the group attended the meetings also. This group brings to us a way of unity and love.

Campus Life is a Christian organization. The officers include Diane Beckman, Sue Wright, Martha Harrell and Doreen Robeson. Among other things, the group is active with teen olympics, a taco bash, rollerskating, and speakers. The club also has a basketball team complete with cheerleaders to challenge other Campus Life groups in the area.

B.O.E./CHESS CLUB

Students in Business Office Education belong to the O.O.E.A. (Ohio Office Education Association). At the present time the group is planning to attend a spring national convention in Chicago which takes place May 10-14. Typing student papers is keeping the club busy until they can raise the money for the convention. The group has recently returned from a convention in Columbus.

FHA/FTA

Led by their president, Molly McCormick, the Future Teachers of America help teachers at Clay Elementary School grade papers and supervise their classes. The other officers include Pat St. George, Sandy Molnar, and Donna Hugueley. The balance of the groups time is spent preparing for the Sadie Hawkins Dance, which they sponsor each spring.

Officers Barb Reichert, Orleen James, Linda Tarr, and Wendy Richards help obtain speakers for Future Homemakers of America. They have had a speaker from Toledo Unite Against Rape and Eggelston Meinert Funeral Homes. They are in the process of planning a trip to the Toledo Society for the Blind while also preparing for a banquet in May.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America consist of 368 chapters which compete in contests concerning marketing and distribution. This year pre-district awards were won by Greg Faneuff, Val Hightower, Lisa Frank and Steve Mominee. They will now compete in the districts and hopefully the states and nationals. The group is planning to visit the junior highs to speak on shoplifting.

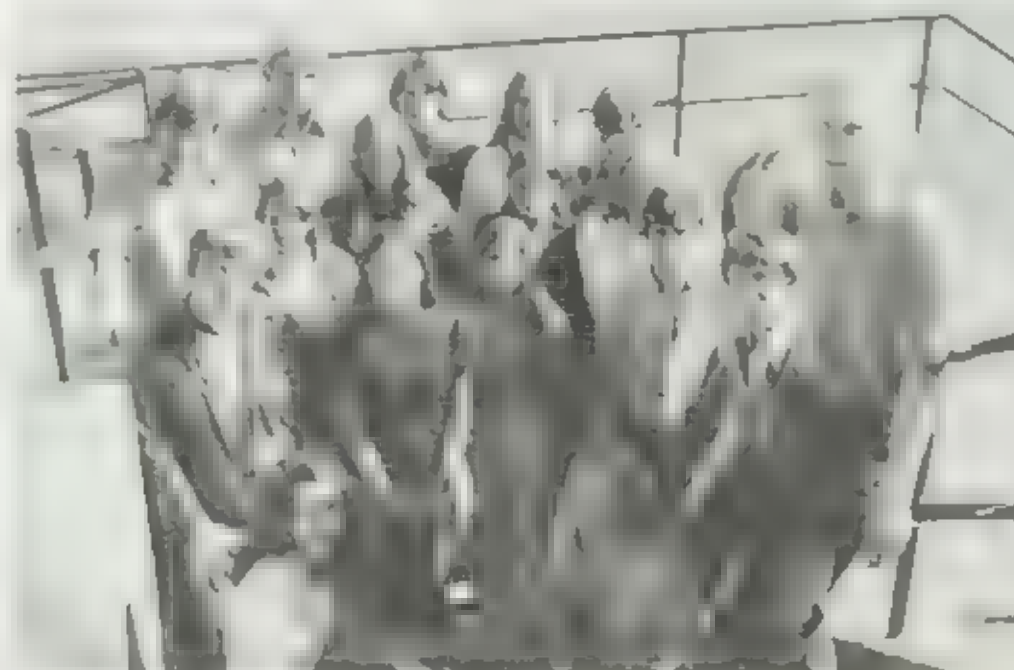

One of Clay's larger groups is VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America). Any student in a vocational program may become a member. The club is planning to escort the junior high students through the vocational classes in an attempt to famalarize upcoming students with the vocational programs.

SADIE HAWKINS

Clay's hillbillies took over the gym to spread hay and moon-shinin' fun on Feb. 8. The annual Sadie Hawkins dance sponsored by F.T.A. was characterized by young things dragging a favorite beau before Marryin' Sam after a spin with square dance reels. The hoe-down featured a professional square dance caller, a pig calling contest whose champion was Charlie Carstenson, and the traditional King and Queen, Randy Schumaker and Mary Jo Heintschel.

Dancers have a good time keeping up with fast-moving toe-tapping music.

FARMER'S DAY

The vast amount of spirit and enthusiasm generated by Farmer Day last year spurred Student Council again to sponsor the day for the Sylvania game. For one day at Clay, bib overalls, suspenders, and long johns, reigned supreme. Fearless Freddie, complete with farmer garb and harrassed by Wilma Dippman, "put down" an Eagle victory at the special pep rally.

THE INVENTION

"The Invention" was Limelighters' popular childrens play. The cast consisted of 5 main characters played by Larry Steigerwald, Randy Schuster, Lynn Smith, Jane Jenkins, and Sue Takacs, with dancers Earl Abrams, Sara Seeger, and Sue Chinni. Expert outside experience was furnished by Craig Damon, who composed the music and worked sound. Over 1,000 people attended, and there was total participation from children in the audience.

MATT BRIGGS

Matt Briggs invents irrigation which brings world fame and gratitude

Limelighters' first production this year was MATT BRIGGS TO THE THIRD POWER. The music for this large student effort was composed by Marc Dickey, Deb Lager, and Jack Short. The script was written by Tami Hubaker, a junior at Clay, and Pam Achter, a 1974 graduate of Clay, with assistance from Mr. Don Kardux. Students cast in the role of Matt Briggs were Joel Askey, Matt Briggs; Steve Martin, Matt Briggs' past; and Martha Harrell, Matt Briggs past's past. The play tells of how society builds people to the status of "god", who are not "gods" at all. The close of the play recognizes the illusion of the theatre in order to suggest people recognize illusions in their lives.

Matt learns of violence from the military.

DON'T DRINK THE WATER

DON'T DRINK THE WATER is a hilarious comedy written by Woody Allen. A special opportunity for students to view the play during school hours was due to the basketball team tournament participation. The humor develops around a touring family in an Iron Curtain country. Being typical American tourists, they snap pictures of anything and everything. After mistakenly taking pictures of top secret missile installations, they are forced to seek shelter in the American Embassy. Some of the cast of characters include; Doug Logan, Sue Takacs, Steve Martin, Joel Askey, Randy Schuster, and Sara Seeger. Clay was fortunate to acquire the services of Jerry Janesick, a professional set designer.

Father Drobney lures KroJack away from the party.

BEFORE THE CURTAIN RISES

There is an invaluable group of students who are usually not seen but are certainly needed. This group is the backstage crew. Hidden away from the glamour and sparkle of a production, these students are responsible for building sets, preparing costumes, applying make-up, securing properties, and for creating lighting, sound, and special effects.

International Thespian Society is an honorary club for people who work in the theatre. Students who participate in productions receive points. An accumulation of 30 such points creates eligibility for membership.

SNOWBALL: A CHRISTMAS FORMAL FLING

December 28 was the date of this year's Christmas dance, better known as the Snowball. The band, Destination, featuring a female vocalist, performed for more than 90 couples. Square dancing added excitement and enthusiasm to the evening. Refreshments were provided by Student Council, who sponsors the event.

Excitement rises as Diane and Bill approach the stage.

This year, as in the past two, five senior girls have known the honor and excitement of being a Crystal Queen finalist. The five finalists and their business managers set up booths in the cafeteria lobby that mirrored their creativity and diversity. Among the original booths were the "Crystal Saloon", an authentic medieval castle missing only a moat, a Snoopy doghouse and a "School Days" booth. After ten days of sales, the receipts were "tallied", and on the following day, the Crystal Queen campaign was climaxed by the Crystal Queen Assembly in the auditorium. On the arm of their manager/escorts, the finalists walked down the aisle in the fanning spotlight. The gala occasion was conducted by master- and mistress-of-ceremonies, Mark Newell, Sports Editor, and Chriss Rabbitt, Crystal Co-Editor, while Jane Jenkins, Crystal Co-Editor, played theme music chosen by the girls. The final moments of the coronation ceremonies showed last year's queen, Jeanne Varga relinquishing her crown to the '74-'75 Queen Debbie Schacht. The crowning moment left Debbie with an armful of yellow roses and many congratulations and smiles. During the Christmas vacation, a special Coronation dinner was held at the Governors' Inn to honor Deb and her court and their business managers.

CRYSTAL LADIES AND THEIR MANAGERS

This year has been a year we'll never forget. It's been a year of changes and experiences. The summer of 1974 found us, along with other members of the staff in Clarksville, Tennessee. While visiting our yearbook company we made such decisions as what the cover of the book would be, and whether or not we wanted to take a midnight dip.

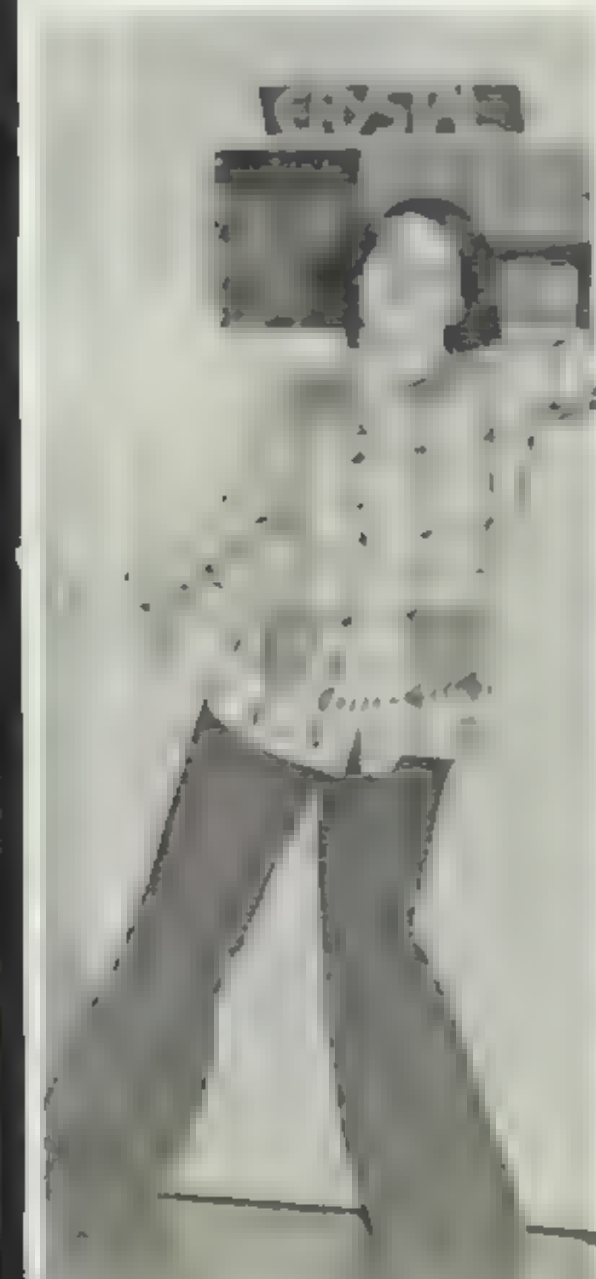

Then the two of us terrorized the streets of New York. The fast-pace and contemporary life style of New Yorkers carried us through Broadway shows, late night dining, and into a yearbook that is NOW. By the end of the summer our theme and cover had materialized into "Tell Me Somethin' Good!"

When it gets right down to it, hard work, LATE HOURS and frustration are what really put this book together. But, the most rewarding part is at the final deadline when the whole staff pulls together to produce a fantastic book.

so poor. You have been diligent and been working have received in your work. I am glad you are a new year.
 I am glad to hear of your success.

(To) go to the store and get some more of the same kind.

Suzette, all day
Remember of studying the S.V.
great time working at for another week at the post of electric and in city hall

See: Best of years to Come and may they
be the Best ever.
Keep up the Good work
and I just Have to say
you a nice friend.

Dear Suzie
 may you never forget the great times
 we spent with you did anatomy even if you carity get a set of won't be the same
 sure as hell
 You're a great friend
 next year
 forward

God Bless you

well,
 I HAVEN'T GOT A STORY TO WRITE
 SO I'LL MAKE IT SHORT.
 GOOD LUCK TO GLAD TO GET OUT OF THIS PLACE

Suzette,
 May music always
 stay in your life.
 And always remember those good times in the future.
 Good luck!
 Mary Jo

Suzette,
 To a real nice girl
 that alot of fun in bond
 good luck in the future
 Joyce

To Suzette or however you spell your name good luck
 in college & have a nice vacation
 Rob

Suzette to a real nice girl good luck
 Simon

SUZETTE,
 BE GOOD THIS SUMMER & ESPECIALLY AT B.G. (TAKE CARE OF KATHY.) GOOD LUCK ALWAYS & GOD BLESS
 JOE ROMANO

Suzette,
 We've enjoyed having you in my anatomy class this year
 hope it will do some good.

Back to the future
 I'm going to
 back to the future
 I'm going to
 back to the future I'm going to

To the best friend
I've ever had.
Remember in the good old times when we'd both have the times with at the same time.
to use the locker at the same time.
I know I'll see you this summer!
For sure. B.G. your friend always,
Diane Ganson

Bensch,
To a great say
well finally made it through all the school years. See you
when TV beats B.G.
in all sports.
Best of luck
Mike Nowalic
P.S. Bensch, you're a real turkey!

Suzette, really you're a really sweet girl. It's been fun this year. I hope you do really ~~well~~
good at B.G. (I know you will though) Love
Pam T.

Sue
To a really good friend. I'm really glad for the change to get to know you better. And remember all the 'serious'
talks we had in Federico's office. And don't forget drawing 'Holzhauer' ~~up~~
the wall when playing scrabble.
Luck always
May Haack

Suzette,
I'm sure have a lot of mutual likes and I don't dislike. I'm sure I don't have to go into detail. I'm sure I'll see ya' a lot this summer. Hard at work. Keep cool - my cream your head in the ice cream any for' quip stop with you'll have to invite me to B.G. you have to.
Good luck always,
Many

Sue,
Remember all the fun we had in typing and L.L. and everything else. You
a real sweet person.
Best of luck
Always,
Debra
